

VETERANS RESENT ATTACK ON YOUNG

General Thomas F. Berry, of Oklahoma, Driven
From Rostrum

YOUNG IS RE-ELECTED.

Attempt to Revive Disproved Charge
Meets General Disapprobation of The Convention.

Richmond, June 3.—Attack yesterday afternoon before the convention of the United Confederate Veterans by General Thomas F. Berry, of Oklahoma, on the name and military reputation of General Bennett H. Young, lying at the point of death in a Cleveland hospital, brought unenlisted support to General Young, and so violent was the opprobrium heaped on the head of the incriminator that he was driven from the rostrum and practically forced from the hall.

General Young was re-elected commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans against the other nominee, General Felix H. Robertson, commander of the Texas Division by a vote of 1,186 to 584. It was General Berry's violent words that helped turn the tide in favor of the sick commander.

As he began speaking and referring to a story that is old in the annals of the Confederacy, he narrated again the tale of General Young's invasion from Canada of a New York town, the old soldiers caught the trend of his remarks, and Berry was literally shouted down. He was caught in the echo of his own violent outburst, and his voice was drowned in the uproar which followed.

"Stop him! Down with him!" the white faced veterans cried.

"I won't stop," General Berry yelled, "I'll tell you the truth if I have to shed my blood for it." General George P. Harrison, who has been presiding for General Young, attempted to regain order. But order then was as impossible as it was when the Tower of Babel was in its building.

"I'll tell you," shouted General Berry, "of Young's raid from Canada into St. Alban's, N. Y.," but only those on the rostrum heard him. The auditorium broke into pandemonium, and General Harrison, laying down a heavy gavel time and time again, called to General Young's detractor that he was out of order.

"The proceedings are out of order," said General Harrison, his face ablaze with anger. "You are out of order, General Berry," in thus attacking a Confederate veteran behind his back.

"I will speak," uttered Berry; but his further words were drowned in the noise of the rebel cry. As the speaker put on his hat General J. H. Curry, of North Carolina, sprang to his feet and shouted: "I move that the man who would make such a charge be expelled from the association." His motion was never put. There was too much babel and confusion for his motion to call for immediate head. General Berry tried again to make himself heard, but when he met the shaking finger and the accusing eyes of General Harrison he left the stand and departed from the auditorium.

"I must invoke the authority invested in me," said the temporary commander-in-chief. This must cease. We must have order. I call on all of you to help me restore this meeting to order. I have never seen such disorder before."

Music was finally invoked, and under its soothing influence the veterans returned to calm, and the business was continued.

Before this outburst coming as an anti-climax to a meeting which had been filled with all the fiery enthusiasm of Confederate soldiers, Birmingham, Ala., had been unanimously voted for as the convention city of 1916. The invitation was delivered by Congressman Thomas M. Hefflin, of Alabama, who reminded Richmond men of the appeals of William Jennings Bryan. When he finished, and the boys band of Birmingham sounded the strains of "Dixie" the veterans were as wild as ever they had been at Chickamauga or the battle of Bull Run, wilder than they were when they followed Pickett on the bloody heights of Gettysburg. Hefflin held them in the hollow of his hand. When the vote was put it was unanimous. The reunion will close with a grand parade today.

MANACLED YOUTH ESCAPES.

Swims Potomac Handcuffed, Gets a File And Releases Self.

Cumberland, Md., June 3.—Roy Neff, aged 18, son of E. R. Neff, merchant, escaped from Constable Samuel B. Wickard today as he was about to enter a taxicab to go to the station to board a train for Baltimore. The boy had been sentenced to St. Mary's Industrial School until he is of age.

Neff, handcuffed, dashed down the hill in the rear of the jail and rushed across the bridge into West Virginia, later swimming the flooded rivers to the Wolfe home on the Maryland side, where he secured a file and released his hands. The officers have been unable to locate him. Neff was sentenced as an incorrigible. Recently he took a large sum of money from his father, it is alleged.

BURNS TO DEATH.

Explosion Holds Victim a Prisoner
And Delays Father And Brother in Rescue Efforts.

Cecilton, Md., June 3.—Her dress catching fire from the explosion of a can of gasoline, the force of which shut and automatically locked the kitchen door, making her a prisoner so far as persons outside the room were concerned, Miss Violet Bennett, aged 19 years, was so badly burned at her home near here Monday afternoon that she died in great agony Tuesday morning. She would have been graduated from the Cecilton High School today had she not been compelled to leave school a few weeks ago because of the death of her mother. Since then she had been keeping house for her father, Charles Bennett, a prominent farmer.

The girl was alone in the kitchen preparing supper. She had a can of gasoline in her hand and it is thought she went too close to the stove, for it exploded, the shock closing and fastening the door leading into the yard. Her father and brother were in the yard milking and when they heard the report they ran to the house, but found the door locked. They could hear the girl screaming for help, so the father smashed the door with an axe. They found Miss Bennett in pain on the floor with most of her clothing burned off.

GILDED HORSES REMOVED

Were Ancient Bronzes That Adorned
St. Mark's, Venice

Rome, June 3.—The famous gilded horses, which have adorned for a century the principal portal of the Cathedral of St. Mark at Venice, have been removed from the city to a place of safety because of the fear that they might be damaged by hostile aviators or warships.

The four horses of St. Mark's of bronze, five feet high, are among the finest of ancient bronzes. It is believed they once adorned the triumphal arch of Nero and afterward that of Trajan. Constantine sent them to adorn the Imperial Hippodrome at Constantinople, whence the Doge Enrico Dandolo took them to Venice in 1204 as the spoils of war. In 1797 they were carried to Paris by Napoleon, but in 1815 they were restored to their former position by Emperor Francis.

GERMANS TAKE 300,000

Huge Booty in Artillery and Military Stores Also Captured in Galicia.

Berlin, June 3.—German Army headquarters announces that more than 300,000 Russians were captured during the month of May. Announcement also was made that further Russian entrenchments near Przemyśl had been captured.

BOMBARDMENT OF PEREMYSL

Report in London That Austro-Germans Have Retaken City

ATTACK NORTH FRONT

Teutons' Losses Frightful, Companies Having Been Mowed Down and Ground Covered With Dead.

London, June 3.—It is reported here that the Austro-Germans have recaptured Peremysh.

Petrograd, June 3.—Peremysh is now being bombarded by huge 16-inch Austro-German siege howitzers and other heavy guns.

The war office admitted in an official statement this forenoon that the enemy captured several Russian guns "which fought until they ran out of ammunition."

The enemy's heaviest attacks are being delivered against the northern front of Peremysh. The famous 42-centimeter guns, used by the Germans to level the Belgian forts of Naumur and Liege, are sending great shells crashing against the northern forts. The Russian gunners are maintaining an effective reply, but in the face of great odds.

Today's official statement is the first admission from the war office that the Russians defending Peremysh are short of ammunition. Though the war office expresses confidence that the artillery attack launched by Mackensen will be beaten off, it was deemed best to inform the public of the handicap under which the Russians are fighting.

Forts 10 and 11 have been made particular objects for the heaviest enemy attacks.

German infantrymen succeeded in penetrating these forts and captured the guns referred to in the official statement. Elsewhere all attempts by enemy infantry to storm the city's outer defenses have been repulsed.

The Germans are using almost precisely the same tactics they employed against the Belgian forts at the beginning of the war. Their columns move forward in close formation at double time. Within a few hundred yards of the Russian cannon they break into a rapid dash and attempt to storm the works.

The enemy losses have been frightful. Russian guns have moved down whole companies and the ground before the forts is literally covered with dead. But the attacks continue and the war office declares the result is still in doubt.

CONLEY MAKES DENIAL.

Declares he Did Not Write Carter
Letters.

Atlanta, Ga., June 3.—James Conley, negro factory sweeper who completed Tuesday night his sentence of one year as accessory to the murder of Mary Phagan, denied yesterday that he had written to Anna Maud Carter letters which figured in Leo M. Frank's extraordinary motion for a new trial.

Conley's denial, made in the presence of Solicitor Dorsey, was the first intimation that Conley had not been the author of these letters, by which Frank's lawyers sought to show that Conley had written without assistance the famous "murder notes" found beside Mary Phagan's body. Conley testified at Frank's trial that the notes were written by him at Frank's dictation.

Frank's counsel contended that the expressions and general form of dictation in the Carter letters were identical with those of the "murder notes" that Conley had written both independent of outside suggestion.

TROUBLE AT THE VATICAN

German Officials Leave Rome and Locate in Switzerland

Rome, June 3.—The difficult and complicated question of diplomatic relations of the Vatican with foreign government may become acute sooner than was expected, owing to the action of Herr von Muhlheim, Prussian, and Baron von Guentstein, Bavarian minister to the Pope.

They left Rome with Prince von Bulow, as they were plainly given to understand that their future presence in Rome would not be permitted, but while Von Bulow returned to Berlin, Gruenstein and Muhlheim have in stalled their chancelleries at Lugano, Switzerland, just across the frontier.

Here they propose to remain in touch with the Vatican. If they do so complications with Italy, and probably Switzerland, are inevitable. It is certain that Prussian or Bavarian cabinet couriers will not be allowed to go backward and forward from the Vatican to Lugano.

Lugano, Chiasso and other Swiss frontier towns are filled with Germans expelled from Italy. Many of them are known to be secret service agents of the German government.

FIGHTING AT DARDANELLES

Allies Assume Offensive—They Have Killed 100,000 Turks So Far
Say Estimates

Athens, June 3.—The fighting between the Turks and Anglo-French allies on the Dardanelles is the bloodiest in history," declares Prof. Rennie chief surgeon in the main military hospital at Constantinople. "Forty thousand Turks are lying wounded in hospitals in the Turkish capital and suburbs. Thousands cannot be cared for because of lack of medical supplies, doctors and nurses."

The allies have assumed the offensive at all points on the Gallipoli Peninsula. Dispatches from Tenedos state that fierce night and day fighting is in progress at many points. The Turkish general staff is reported to have massed 275,000 troops for the defense of the Dardanelles and Constantinople.

Dispatches last week stating that a mutiny had broken out in the Turkish army on the Dardanelles have been confirmed by amplifying advices from that theater of war. Several were killed in the fighting and forty others concerned in the plot were taken to Constantinople and executed. The Turkish transport Mahuzein No. 2 has been sunk in the Sea of Marmora by a British submarine that traversed the Dardanelles.

The German officers often drove their Turkish soldiers into the allies devastating fire at the point of their revolvers.

MAYOR FINES HIMSELF.

out Headlights.

York, Pa., June 3.—Major John R. Lafean fined himself $5 for driving his automobile over the city streets at night without headlights, in violation of a State law.

The Mayor has as his companion Judge N. Sargent Ross and the Rev. Samuel Stein. The car was stopped by Patrolman Free and the Mayor and his friends informed that the lights of the machine were not burning. In carrying out his policy of strict enforcement of the traffic laws the Mayor imposed upon himself the minimum fine.

Regarded as Largest Ever Drawn in This Country

New York, June 3.—A check for $65,000,000 regarded by New York bankers as the largest ever drawn in this country, was on deposit to the credit of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in a local bank yesterday. It was drawn by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. yesterday in payment for general mortgage 4 1-2 per cent. bonds issued by the railroad company after being underwritten by a syndicate formed by the bankers. It was deposited by officials of the Pennsylvania in the bank on which it was drawn.

TENSION STILL AT HIGH PITCH

Opinion Divided as to Result of Yesterday's Conference

MUST AWAIT ANSWER.

Von Bernstorff's Communication Has
It Is Said, Been Sent to Berlin—
Tenor Unknown.

Washington, June 3.—Although some officials today talked hopefully about the results to come from the conference between President Wilson and Ambassador von Bernstorff yesterday, the tension over the German situation still is at a high pitch.

Indications are that it will continue so for days. Until the second German answer is made public, or at least until its tenor is known, there promises to be no letting down of the strain.

In official circles it is admitted that the conversation yesterday between the President and Ambassador von Bernstorff served to clear up the diplomatic atmosphere at any rate. The German envoy left the White House with a clear understanding of the Administration's attitude and is understood to have outlined the concessions his government would make and the conditions attached.

The ambassador also completed arrangements to have his communication to Berlin sent through the agency of the State Department and Ambassador Gerard in code. This was requested, von Bernstorff explained, because of his inability to communicate intimately to his government since the entrance of Italy made it practically impossible for him to get confidential messages through.

The communication of Ambassador von Bernstorff to his government has already gone forward, according to a high official this morning.

President Wilson emphasized in an informal talk with Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, yesterday, the intense feeling of the American people over the sinking of the Lusitania and other violations of American rights on the high seas, and impressed upon him that the United States must insist on an adherence by Germany to the accepted principles of international law as they affect neutrals.

No announcements were made after the conference, which had been arranged at the Ambassador's request, but it was stated authoritatively that there would be no change in the plan of the President and his cabinet to send in response to the German reply to the last American note an inquiry to ascertain definitely whether the imperial government will abide by international law or follow its own rules of maritime warfare. The note, which is being written by President Wilson, will be dispatched before the end of the week.

"Samson" rises triumphant over the wreck of his fortunes and secure in the love of his wife and with full faith in her, sets his face toward a fresh beginning. CASE OF GULFLIGHT

Germany Admits Torpedoing of American Steamer Was a Mistake

Berlin, June 3.—The torpedoing of the American tank steamer Gulflight by a German submarine was a mistake, according to an official communication today delivered to United States Ambassador Gerard by the German government.

The German note declares the government has no intent to attack harmless neutral ships.

Two days ago Ambassador Gerard was told by the German admiralty that the attack on the Gulflight was committed in error.

Amsterdam, June 3.—The German press is starting a new campaign against America, which is evidently reproached for its professed neutrality, friendly to the allies and unfriendly to Germany. President Wilson's dissatisfaction with the German reply to the Lusitania note has induced new attacks against him and the American administration.

With the consent of the military censorship, the newspapers state that if Germany must choose between a rupture with the United States and the abandonment of her submarine warfare she undoubtedly will favor a rupture, whatever may be the consequences.

Berlin, June 3.—The German note to the United States was issued to the German press Sunday night. The most curious of the first comments was that of the Frankfurter Zeitung which recognized the German note as not a worthy reply to the American note at all, and treated it as sort of lecture for the benefit of President Wilson, intending to produce a fresh American statement which might be followed by a real "German answer."

ALMOST BEHEADS HERSELF.

Philadelphia, June 2.—Mrs. Catharine Harrity, 39 years old, committed suicide at her home yesterday by cutting her throat with a large butcher knife. So determined was the woman to make sure of death that she almost beheaded herself. Her husband, Hugh Harrity, found her lying on the floor of the kitchen and was so shocked that he fell in a faint beside her.

A nervous illness is said to have been the cause of the suicide.

Spirited Contest in Richmond

GIVEN HIGH PRAISE.

Sons Yesterday Close Their Greatest Convention Amid Thrilling Scenes and Enthusiasm.

Richmond, June 3.—After securing a majority of 118 votes out of 326, W. N. Brandon, a prominent business man of Little Rock, Ark., was unanimously elected commander-in-chief of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans yesterday morning, the opposition joining with the majority in making it a popular choice. Mr. Brandon was almost solidly backed by the delegates from the lower South and west of the Mississippi, and also carried many votes from the States farther north.

The only other candidate running was Garland P. Peed, of Norfolk, who was given most of Virginia's votes. He was the first man nominated, E. W. Speed, commander-in-chief of the Army of Northern Virginia, speaking for him, Dr. J. King, of Fredericksburg, and several others seconded the nomination. Judge W. O. Hart of New Orleans, next nominated Mr. Brandon, who was seconded immediately by Carl Hinton, of Silver City, N. M., commander of the Southwest Division; S. D. Fleming and a number of others.

The voting was spirited, but from the first it was seen that the election was going Brandon's way. The roll was called by Adjutant Nathan B. Forrest by camps, each reporting according to its membership.

Following his election, Mr. Brandon made a speech, thanking the sons for the honor bestowed upon him. "I will use my best efforts to make the organization a success," he announced. Mr. Brandon is a former commander of the Trans-Mississippi Department, and is the grandson of Colonel Nathan Brandon, of the Fourteenth Tennessee Regiment.

The other officers elected were: Ernest G. Baldwin, of Roanoke, commander of the Army of Northern Virginia.

POTOMAC RIVER RISING

Rains This Week Cause Floods in Maryland—River at Alexandria Normal at Present.

While the tide in the river at this port has not so far, made higher than the normal, there is every reason to believe the present rainfall will raise a current in the stream shortly. Dispatches from the upper Potomac are to the effect that serious floods are prevailing and that certain streams are on the rampage. Bridges, roads and farm lands have been damaged, and there is much alarm in certain sections, especially in the flat region. Big rocks have been rolled down mountains sides, which have torn up railroad tracks. The Potomac river has risen 2 feet at Hagerstown and is steadily rising. Fear is expressed if the rain continues over today a dangerous flood will follow.

Reports from Hancock and other points on the upper Potomac state that heavy rains have prevailed there and high waters are indicated. The Potomac will be probably out of banks by tonight. The Conococheague and Antietam creeks and other streams are swollen. Wheat has been damaged, the rain knocking off the blossoms.

ADVERTISING METHODS

Retail Merchants of Alexandria Opposed to Announcing Business in Programs, Etc.

The retailers of this city are unalterably opposed to the purchasing of advertising space in programs and similar schemes having no real advertising value.

This was discussed at length at their meeting last night, and was referred to the board of Directors for such action as will save the merchants this constant drain.

The delegates who have just returned from the State Association stated that Alexandria was the only city in the state where the program and ticket nuisance had not been practically abolished.

The association also went on record as in favor of making Confederate Memorial day a state holiday, and President Monroe was instructed to take this matter up with the other associations throughout the State.

A "Shop in Alexandria" Campaign was planned, and will be started at an early date.

Many other matters of interest to the association including a report from the State meeting were gone over.

White-Lined Refrigerators Are the Modern, Sanitary Kind

White Enamel or Porcelain-lined Refrigerators are now wanted by all considerate housekeepers. And they are so practical, sanitary and cleanly in appearance that it is really no wonder that they are in such general use.

So much for the lining, but the refrigeration and economy of ice consumption are more important. The insulation in all our Refrigerators is granulated cork, proven to be the best through many experiments—non-conductor of heat and air, and consequently economical in consumption of ice. A thorough distribution of the cold-air is constantly reaching the food compartments, so that the food is kept pure and suitable for use.

Our special at $7.50—A household style Refrigerator of good size and design, with white enamel lining. White Porcelain Lined Refrigerators, $17.75 to $47.50.

FAITH IN THE ROYAL TOUCH.

In the early years of Doctor Samuel Johnson he was afflicted with a scrofulous taint, which caused much anxiety to his parents. Many remedies were restored to, until finally, having faith in the royal touch at that time believed by many to be a panacea for such ailments, the boy was taken to London where Queen Anne stroked his head and presented him with a gold piece. Johnson, like other men of genius, may have had a slight streak of superstition from that day on, as in his mature years he was a believer in what was known in London as the Cock Lane ghost. It seems that faith still exists in the royal touch, and members of the Czar's family are using it to advantage during the present war.

Almost in the shadow of the Imperial Palace in Tsarskoye-Selo, the winter home of Emperor Nicholas, there is a low building half hidden behind villas, artificial drains and triumphal arches, which is perhaps the most remarkable hospital improvised during the present war. Soldiers come out not only healed and sound, but with a straight sort of exaltation that one might expect to find in a patient who had been cured by a miracle.

At the special request of the empress, a part of the building has been set aside as the Court Hospital where the Empress and her two oldest daughters, the Grand Duchesses Olga and Tatiana, work among the other Red Cross nurses from 10 o'clock every morning till late in the afternoon.

At all the most difficult operations her Majesty acts as head nurse, handling the operating surgeon his instruments, while the two Grand Duchesses pass the necessary cloths and bandages. The effect of this imperial presence on the simple peasant mind cannot be fully appreciated without understanding the religious awe which the peasant feels toward the imperial family. The actual presence of members of the family at the bedside strikes him in itself as nothing less than a miracle.

This semi-religious exaltation of the wounded soldiers has according to the surgeons in the hospital, noticeably hastened their return to health.

WAR FEVER WIDESPREAD.

When Frederick the Great, who had professed his friendship for the widowed queen of Austria, fled from Silesia from her, Macaulay observed that this unwarranted act disturbed peace of the world, and eventually caused red men to scalp each other on the shores of Lake Superior. The seizure of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria was the origin of the present disturbed condition of the world, and while war is devastating Europe and the United States is passing through a critical ordeal in dealing with Germany and Mexico, North American Indians have become restive.

Claiming that they own the land by treaties with the Federal government and that they are going to stand by them to the last ditch, defiant braves of old Chief Ouray's tribe of Utes have come from the reservation in Utah and camped at the junction of Douglass Creek and the White River, in Blanco county, Colorado. Fears that the Indians will obtain liquor have caused Representative Edward T. Taylor to take vigorous measures to have the Utes forced back to the reservation. In their present mood whisky will inflame them to the point of shedding blood to maintain what they claim are their rights.

Several hundred more Utes are on the way and word from Utah says that many Indians are leaving the reservation, expressing complete contempt of all attempts to quiet them.

DISTURBING THE WATERS.

Attack yesterday afternoon before the convention of the United Confederate Veterans in Richmond by General Thomas F. Barry, of Oklahoma, on the name and military reputation of General Bennett H. Young, lying at the point of death in a Cleveland hospital was an unfortunate incident in the reunion of the survivors of the armies of the Confederacy.

The sad occurrence marred the proceedings and caused a veritable pandemonium where there should have been fraternity and the best feeling. The scenes, according to the Richmond papers, must have been akin to those witnessed in Alexandria during reconstruction days in white and black conventions.

Several years ago it was noticed that on Confederate Memorial days such occasions were used, by some speakers, to dig up old sores or to allude to their own prowess or intimations of their ambitions for public favors. We do not know why General Barry reserved his attack upon General Young for this reunion of veterans in Virginia. If he was bent upon ventilating his feelings, we would have preferred him to keep the can hermetically sealed while in the Old Dominion. The cries of "Stop him! Down with him!" and his rejoinders "I won't stop!" "I will speak!" should not have been heard in such an assembly of greybeards who had gathered for a reunion, many of whom may not be present at another.

VERDICT OF MURDER.

"Murder by agents of hostile forces" was the coroner's verdict returned in London yesterday at the inquest into the death of two of the victims of the Zeppelin raid over London on Monday night.

One of the most amusing literary productions is a book written by a French journalist yclept Max O'Rell. It is entitled "John Bull and His Island." It was published in the early eighties. Among other things, the writer says John Bull, when worsted, always terms his defeat a "massacre." Braddock's defeat was, to him, a massacre, as was the setback at Mactoum and other places in recent years.

War is a terrible condition. We naturally sympathize with the inhabitants of any city who are kept in a continuous state of anxiety, but such are now passing through the ordeals incident to hostilities in many places in continental Europe, where indictments by the wholesale for "murder" could be returned.

THE KAISER'S AILMENT.

The New York Herald suggests that Emperor William is suffering from psychopathy—that is, of a mind suffering in certain ways from itself and its own physical basis, so that its modes of reasoning are inevitably forced away from the normal of rationality.

The Herald's diagnosis is as follows:

Thes object's well marked tendency to exaggerate his own personal qualities as writer, painter, composer, in his earlier years, culminates later in his constant pushing into the foreground the imagined "mission" that he and his people have to impose their ideas on the world, and the claim of direct alliance with divinity to back them up. All these are the familiar signs of irrationality that alienists cannot but interpret in the same sense as they have often done with regard to so many of their patients.

LEGITIMATE ADVERTISING.

The action of the Retail Merchants of Alexandria last night in placing themselves on record as inimical to advertising their business in programs and other fake prints is in accord with the convictions of far-seeing merchants from time immemorial. The newspaper will ever remain the proper medium, although some would be enterprising people still look for satisfactory results from bill boards, fences, street cars and other places.

Passersby take but casual glances at such, but in the quiet of their homes they and the members of their families will read advertisements in the newspaper.

Frank L. Parker, twenty-three years old, shot himself through the head while sitting on a bed near his mother and sister in his home in Richmond Tuesday afternoon. The man died about ten minutes later. Dependency was given as the cause of the man's suicide. He had been out of work for some time.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Marital law has been proclaimed in Vienna as a result of the union which has followed the Italian declaration of war against Austria.

A bitter attack was delivered against the present government in the Japanese house of representatives when a resolution expressing a lack of confidence in the ministry was adopted.

Six Americans have been slain by Mexicans in the Tampico oil fields, and Lieut. Green, U. S. N., attached to the U. S. S. Sacramento, was fired upon when he went in a launch to investigate one of the killings.

The loss of $500 which he had saved to defray the expenses of his wedding so worried Charles Stankus, a Philadelphia butcher, that he committed suicide Tuesday night by hanging himself to a bedpost.

The Danish steamer Ajax, bound from Scotland for Koge with a cargo of coal, has been captured by a German destroyer. The ship was seized in Koge Bay, which is Danish sea territory, and was taken to a German port.

A bomb from a German aeroplane thrown down at Warsaw yesterday struck a crowded moving picture theater. The missile pierced the roof, and in exploding killed six persons and wounded twenty-five others, mostly women and children.

It is reported that an agreement has been arranged between the British and German governments for the protection of specified buildings. These buildings include museums, churches and hospitals, which are to be marked with black and white squares.

Catapulted from a bicycle, Harry Lesher, of Remont, Pa., died from a fractured skull on Tuesday in coasting down a steep grade at Remont. Lesher momentarily removed his hands from the handle bars and the wheel struck a stone, throwing him some distance on his head.

With his aged wife a horror-stricken witness, Charles Petermann, 69 years old, of Philadelphia, committed suicide at his home Tuesday morning by blowing the top of his head off with a repeating rifle. Petermann was employed at the Baldwin Locomotive Works, but was laid off seven weeks ago. Because of his age he was unable to obtain another job.

The British, French and Russian embassies here have assured the State Department they will give safe conduct to Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of Germany, when he leaves the United States. It has been known that Dr. Dernburg is about to leave the country, and it is reported he will go to Norway some time this month.

Rheims is again under bombardment by the Germans. A French official statement says the Germans have shelled the famous cathedral. North of Arras the fighting in the ruins of deserted villages has been resumed with great fury. The French drove the enemy out of a group of houses in Neuville, and retained them, despite several strong counter attacks.

Frank Mothershead, 27 years old, driver of a wagon of the American Ice Company, in Washington, shot himself in the right temple with a revolver while alone in his room last night, dying instantly. Mrs. Mothershead told the police that her husband had been despondent over his business affairs, worrying over the fact that certain amounts had been deducted from his salary.

Called, he says, by a revelation from God, Campbell H. Moore, of Springfield, Mo., brother of the late Mrs. Carrie Nation, will devote his life to wielding the anti-liquor hatchet laid down by his crusading sister. Moore said he had a vision that told him to "try everybody on earth for their sins," and he proposes to give his remaining years to freeing the United States of the liquor traffic.

Wrapped snugly in blankets to prevent it from catching cold, Minnie, three-months-old daughter of John D. Staller, of Taylor's Bridge, Wilmington, Del., was suffocated in the automobile of its parents. The Staller left home early in the morning for a ride and returned late in the afternoon. The child had been wrapped up as a protection against the wind and when the parents returned home they were startled to find her lifeless.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Rev. Robert P. Kerr, D. D., for the last twelve years pastor of Northminster, Baltimore, Presbyterian Church, has decided to give up the active ministry and enter upon the journalistic field. He will become the chief editor of the church paper in Richmond, known as the Presbyterian of the South.

To the late Major Orren Randolph Smith, of Loudoun, N. C., was yesterday in Richmond awarded the credit for having designed the first flag of the Confederate States of America—the "Stars and Bars." The report of the committee, composed of members of all allied Confederate organizations, was submitted by General C. Irvine Walker, of Summerville, S. C., chairman.

Wallace Barham, a prominent citizen of Surry county, living at Italia, was found dead in a shallow well on his place Monday afternoon after having been missing for about half an hour. Members of the family, looking for Barham saw his hat by the well and were horrified on looking in to see his lifeless body crumpled at the bottom. He had been in bad health for a year.

Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, chairman of the committee on the Battle Abbey, submitted his report yesterday morning before the convention in Richmond. He regretted that the memorial institution is yet incomplete, and told the story of the young French artist, Charles Hoffbauer, who, engaged to paint the mural decorations, had been called back to his native country to shoulder arms for the Tricolor. Governor Ellyson announced the gift by General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, of a complete set of Southern Historical Society papers.

At yesterday morning's session of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association in the Second Baptist Church in Richmond, the reports of association, which were begun Tuesday were continued. Probably the greatest feature of the meeting was a report on the resolution to ask the United States Congress to make an appropriation of $65,000,000 to the Southern States for the cotton, sugar and other goods confiscated by them during the years of 1863-68. This fund will be used by the States in pensioning the aged veterans of the cause and their widows.

Judge Preston W. Campbell, of Bristol, who heard the case of James Canter, now under sentence of death for his alleged part in the murder of Mrs. Maude Wilson, the young wife of James R. Wilson, having denied a motion in his behalf seeking an appeal. Canter's counsel seeking a remedy, will make exception and appeal to the Supreme Court for a writ of error. Unless the Supreme Court interferes in some way, James Canter will have to die in the electric chair on June 11, at which time it now seems certain his brother, Luther Canter, will be executed without opposition from any source.

MUST LIST PROPERTY.

Commissioner of Revenue Compelled to Make Report Not Later Than June 10.

The Commissioner of Revenue's notice to taxpayers, published elsewhere in the Gazette should be heeded by owners of personal property. The penalties imposed on those who fail or refuse to comply with the law regulating the listing and assessment of this class of property are extremely heavy, and wherever an effort is made to evade taxation by false statements or failure to properly list such holdings, the city tax will be added as a penalty. The examiner of records is required to make thorough investigation of state, federal and other records and to report to the Local Board of Review all deeds of trust, stocks, bonds and other subjects found which have not been properly listed by their owners.

The following is an extract from the law on the subject:

"Provided, further, however, that in the event any taxpayer shall fail, without just cause shown, to return for taxation any intangible personal property under the provisions of this schedule within the time prescribed by law, and it is ascertained thereafter that any such property has not been returned for taxation, it shall be assessed when discovered, and taxed at the full rate of taxation provided for real estate in this State, which shall include the State rate and for the local rates and levies of the county, district, town or city, wherein the owner or taxpayer has his legal residence."

SUICIDE OF STEWARDESS.

Woman Jumps From Steamer Dominion Into the Ocean.

Philadelphia, June 3.—Fate of a shipwrecked woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, on the steamship Dominion, of the American Line, insane and she committed suicide by jumping into the ocean from the vessel on the trip from Liverpool to this port, which terminated when the vessel reached here yesterday.

Her act was committed about one o'clock on the morning of May 23. The night previous two submarines were seen maneuvering about the ship and Mrs. Jones expressed fear to the passengers that the ship would be blown up.

Many of the passengers also became frightened and appealed to the officers to get the lifeboats ready in case of emergency. The officers quieted the passengers by telling them that the underwater craft belonged to the Allies and there was no danger. Few of the passengers accepted this explanation, however, because only the periscopes were showing and there was no way of telling to what power the submarines belonged.

The submarines disappeared after following the ship some distance and repeatedly crossing her bows. That night all lights on the ship were put out.

After the Dominion docked yesterday morning word was received that the woman's body had been found by another vessel. It is understood that the vessel which sent the message picked up the body and took it back to Liverpool.

TO ENTER WAR TOGETHER

Roumania and Bulgaria Reported In Complete Agreement

Paris, June 3.—Bulgaria and Roumania have arrived at a complete understanding, according to a Bucharest dispatch to the Petit Parisien, Roumania having agreed to cede territory in Dobrudja. The two countries will enter the war simultaneously, the dispatch says, Roumania against Austria and Bulgaria against Turkey. The army staffs of the two powers are said to be busy co-ordinating military plans.

Negotiations between Roumania and Russia over the lines of the Pruth and of Banat are said to be virtually complete. If Russia accepts Roumania's proposals the latter country is declared to be ready to begin hostilities without delay.

Dobrudja is a part of Roumania bounded on the east by the Black Sea and on the north and west by the Danube river. As a consequence of the second Balkan war between Bulgaria and Serbia and Greece, Roumania took from Bulgaria a large slice of territory and added it to Dobrudja province on the south.

Much bitter feeling existed in Bulgaria for some time against Roumania on this account, but more recently a change in the relations between these two Balkan States was observed. Last December the Bulgarian Minister at Petrograd was quoted as saying that Roumania had arranged to restore to Bulgaria her lost territory.

SERVES NOTICE ON MEXICO

President Tells Factious Leaders That Patience Has Ceased to be a Virtue.

President Wilson yesterday served notice on factional leaders in Mexico and announced to the country that patience has ceased to be a virtue in so far as it affects watchful waiting for peace in Mexico.

The President announced the next three steps of this government in its policy toward Mexico. They are:

1. To permit the actional leaders now embroiled "a very short time" in which to compose their differences and fulfill the real purpose of the revolution.

2. In the event of the failure of these factions to get together, the United States will "lend its active moral support to any man or group of men, if such may be found" who can accomplish peace and a measure of constitutional government for Mexico.

3. If such a man or group of men cannot be found, "to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save herself and serve her people."

Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well," writes Mrs. S. F. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere.
